

WOMAN'S WORK IN WORLD'S REDEMPTION

An Address Delivered by Rev.
James Vernon, of Henderson, Ky.

TO THE C. W. B. M. IN THIS CITY.

Following is an address delivered by Rev. James Vernon at the district meeting of the C. W. B. M. in this city recently:

From the account given in the Book of Genesis we learn that a man was created first.

He is said to have been very good but we think he was not perfectly happy. He looked at the stars only to feel there ought to be something brighter; he looked at the rose only to feel there ought to be something more beautiful; he saw the shapely palm tree and the light-footed gazelle and thought there ought to be some creature embodying the graces of both.

He heard the voice of the nightingale and sighed for a music diviner still, and then he slept, and when he awoke, there it stood before him, fairest of God's creation, last and best of all that can be thought or sight be formed, holy, divine, good, amiable and sweet.

The Bible says that woman was not made of dust, but out of the flesh and bone of man; and Mr. Ingersoll has said "considering the raw material" used that was the best job ever done in this world."

Adam recognized her origin and declared her relation to himself in view of it. He said "this is now bone of my bone and flesh of my flesh, she shall be called woman because she was taken out of man."

Our word woman comes from "wife" and "man"; literally the wife of man. Because of this origin God said through Moses nearly three thousand years afterwards "Therefore shall a man leave his father and his mother and shall cleave unto his wife and they shall be one flesh." (Gen. 2:23-25).

The vision before us as Eden draws back its leafy bays and gates is man and woman standing there side by side as loved and loving, equals.

Woman is not an inferior with whom it is an act of consideration for a man to associate. She is not a beast of burden, a slave, much less a moral hindrance and a curse. She is at best beneath man's feet, she is at his side with rights which if not identical in all things are certainly numerically equal. Without her man would not only have been incomplete but also helpless. Without her he would have been of no more use than the half of a pair of shears; without her he would not have won his dominion over the earth; and he would have been not only the first of the race but the last. Nature cares nothing for the individual; she cares only for the pair. How long this condition existed we are not told, we are told that she was tempted and that the fell and that he followed her.

She thought it was better for her to know what God had kept secret, than what he had revealed, better for her to be as gods, knowing good and evil, than to be simply a good woman. Millions of women (and men) to have tripped right there.

It is now woman's business to lead man back again into Eden, and would God that he would follow her as readily back into Eden as he followed her out of it. Away back yonder, as soon as they are out of Eden, woman becomes by divine appointment in some sense of the term at least "subject unto her husband." There is a universal consent as to this. We have differed only as to the nature and extent of the subjection. We will know what the old religions and civilizations thought it was. She was a slave before the word slave was found in any language; she wore the first fetters that were ever placed on human limbs.

The golden bracelets on our wrists and the golden chains about your necks, my sisters, put there by the thrilled and thrilling hands of love, are lineal descendants of the iron ones which in other ages, when women were slaves your mothers and sisters wore. Within my memory I am glad you have abandoned the monstrous practice of boring holes through your ears, but that practice was the remains of a custom your captors and owners had of branding their property and chattels. Woman was the first chattel, the first article of barter, the first piece of merchandise and the first item of baggage. Before men laid burdens on the shaggy deformity called a camel, he laid burdens on women; before the yoke had caloused the shoulders of an ox or an ass it had caloused hers.

LONG CONFERENCE

Of Railroad Employees and Officials May
May Come to End This Week.

After being in session for almost five weeks considering working agreement and slight revisions in the wage scale, the adjustment committee of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers of the Louisville & Nashville railroad will likely finish its work next Wednesday. Meetings of the committee have been held at Fifth Avenue Hotel, and recent conferences with Louisville & Nashville officials held at the company's Tenth-street offices.

Relations between the company and the men are declared by chairman T. J. Bissett to be most harmonious. It is probable that a statement concerning the result of the conference will be made public Wednesday.

HIGHEST BIDDER

Will Get the Services of Four Hundred Convicts.

Frankfort, Ky., July 28.—Four hundred convicts in the Frankfort Penitentiary will be let out to the highest bidder August 15, in this city. The contracts will extend over a period of four years. The Hoke Montgomery Company now has a contract on the 400 men at $50 a day, as that number is a part of the 1,050 men worked by this company in its shoe factory within the prison.

Coal and Timber Land Deal Closed.

Hyden, Ky., July 27.—A deed was put on record here Saturday from the Burr & Brebb Lumber Company, of Ford, Clark county, Kentucky, deeding 14,689 acres of land to the Greasy Ford Coal & Timber Company, of Louisville. The consideration was $97,200, to be paid in one and two years.

This is the biggest land deal that has been made in Leslie county in years. The land consists of sixty-four tracts situated in Leslie and Harlan counties, and is considered very cheap for the price given. It contains an unknown amount of hardwood timber and a good portion of it is underlaid with thick seams of coal.

MINING NOTES.

Mining Rescue Stations.

It is announced from the new Bureau of Mines in Washington that rescue stations, as means of reducing the number of deaths in coal mines, are to be established at Birmingham, Ala., Huntington, W. Va., and Hukstebare, Pa. There are stations already in operation at Pittsburgh, Seattle, Knoxville and Urbana, Ill. Six stations are yet to be designated, one of which is to be "near the boundary of Southern Indiana and Western Kentucky, accessible to the coal fields of these two regions and Southern Illinois." A strong effort has been made by Evansville, Ind., to secure this station. Should that effort prove successful, Kentucky, although an extensive coal mining state, would have no rescue station within its borders. The station at Knoxville would be accessible to the coal fields of Southern Kentucky, while that at Huntington, W. Va., is in touch with the Northeastern Kentucky field. It would appear that Kentucky's mining interests are of sufficient importance to demand the establishment of at least one station within the State. Should the Federal Government think differently, the selection of Evansville probably would meet the approval of the miners and mine owners of the Western Kentucky field.

The Big Four Coal Company is building a new coal tippie just east of their old one on the Southern at Boonville. When completed, it will be one of the finest tipples in that part of the State. The cost will be about $6,000.

Mr. Ernest Raab spent Wednesday night Madisonville in search of luncheon for the use of the St. Bernard mines.

A. G. Spillman, Assistant General Manager of the St. Bernard Mining Co., spent Wednesday at Providence on business.

W. D. Hill, manager of the St. Bernard store at Barnsley, was in the city Wednesday.

BARE CIGARETTE SMOKERS

Fireman Must Have Plenty of Strength and Nerve to Face Death.

Canton, Ohio, July 26.—Cigarette smokers are now barred from becoming city firemen in Canton under an order issued by Chief Robert O. Messner.

"Men who use cigarettes may be all right in brain power, but they lack physical stamina and nerve," said Chief Messner in discussing the matter.

"The fire department service requires men who have plenty of strength, with the brain to use it properly and the nerve to make the brain use the muscle in the face of certain or possible death," he added.

Annual Convention.

The annual convention of the Christian churches in Kentucky will be held at the First Christian Church in Owensboro, September 19 to 23. This is one of the most commodious churches in the city, and the seating capacity is 1,800. The membership of this church extends to all a cordial invitation to attend this convention. Mr. W. T. Sweeney, the genial and obliging chairman of the entertainment committee, will take pleasure in securing quarters in advance if you will notify him. The rates will range from $1.00 to $3.00 per day.

REDISTRICTING OF KENTUCKY.

Committee Will Start Work as Soon as Official Census Figures are Obtained.

Louisville, Ky., July 27.—J. F. Porter, of Webster county, member of the lower house of the Kentucky general assembly and also a member of the committee from the legislature having under consideration the congressional, legislative and judicial redistricting of the State, was in Louisville last week. Mr. Porter said that he conferred with Gen. S. Wilson, speaker of the house of representatives and chairman of the redistricting committee, in reference to the work of the committee, and that the work would be taken up just as soon as the official census figures had been obtained from the census bureau at Washington.

He said the first business to come before the committee would be the establishment of permanent headquarters to carry on the work and this likely will be done at an early date. Louisville is regarded as the most logical place for the headquarters, being more centrally located for all of the members of the committee.

Only one meeting has been held since the appointment of the committee during the closing days of the legislature, and at that time Jas. E. Stone, chief clerk of the house of representatives, was chosen secretary, and he will be permanently in charge of the headquarters after they are established. Mr. Porter was a member of the redistricting committee ten years ago during the long session of the legislature.

PENCILS HANG ON FENCE

World's Supply of Cedar Scribbles Now
Furnished Only by Few Remaining
"Rahs."

Nashville, July 28.—The old-fashioned red cedar rail fences of middle Tennessee now furnish the world's main supply of cedar pencils, according to information received from big pencilmakers who have mills in this state's cedar district.

Statistics at hand also indicate that these fences are the sole remaining source from which to make the best grade, smooth-whittling cedar pencil so well known to every school boy.

Descendants of the rail-splitting farmers of Abraham Lincoln's time are selling their cedar fences for what their forefathers would have considered fabulous sums. The selling price of such a fence will build four up-to-date wire fences of equal length. In exceptional instances even better bargain have been driven.

GETS $350,000 FORTUNE

Mayfield Bricklayer Inherits Mothers Estate.

Mayfield, Ky., July 28.—No longer will Robert Overshine, of this city, call down from a third story staging for "more brick."

He's rich now; his mother died in Elizabeth City, N. J., last week and left him $340,000. Overshine doffed his overalls today and declared that he'd never again slip mortar on a brick. With his newly acquired fortune he says he won't need $3 a day that Mayfield bricklayers get.

Tonight Overshine treated all of his friends, and bade them good-by. He boarded a train west bound, and said his future address would be California. He plans to buy a ranch and watch others work for him.

Locomotive Blasts.

L. & N. Hull Booming.
The Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company's comparative statement of estimated operating revenue shows:

For third week of July, 1910.	$970,570
Corresponding week last year.	887,900
Increase.	$82,670
Total for 3 weeks of July, 1910.	$1,897,875
Corresponding period last week.	2,644,005

Polk Blair, who has been visiting his father and mother near Allen'sville for several weeks, will return to Earlinton August 1 and resume his position as machinist for the L. & N.

Arch Martin has accepted a position as fourth man in the switching crew, and will soon make a regular man.

Joe Robinson, conductor on one of the through passenger, has been in the city several days on leave of absence.

MILITARY OFFICERS
FORM ASSOCIATION

Action Taken by Kentucky Brigade at Fort Benjamin Harrison.

The Kentucky militia officers, who attended the Camp of Instruction at Fort Benjamin Harrison, near Indianapolis, returned home after a profitable week spent at the army post. While the work mapped out for them was strenuous and there was but little time left for play, all of the soldiers are loud in their praises of Major J. H. Frier and his associates, who acted as instructors, and who furnished the officers with much valuable information, which they will use on their own commands.

While in camp the officers of the 1st Kentucky sent a communication to the Adjutant General, requesting that an election be held in that regiment for the office of Colonel. This request was forwarded to Gen. Johnston while the men were still in camp.

The Kentucky National Guard Association was also reorganized while the Kentucky Brigade was in camp. Col. Edwards, of the Second regiment, was elected President, Major Felix Kerrick, of the first, vice president, and Maj. Arthur G. Chapman, of the Third, was elected Secretary and Treasurer.

The object of the Association is to improve conditions among the guardsmen and work in harmony for the uplift of the guard.

Sleepers were provided of the officers for the return trip, the train leaving Indianapolis at midnight Saturday reaching Louisville at 5:30 o'clock Sunday morning.

Cars Demolished.

Through L. & N. freight No. 79 early Tuesday morning struck a car loaded with stone near Hopkinsville, and a wreck resulted which delayed traffic several hours. Ike Luton, engineer on the freight train, jumped and was painfully injured, breaking his arm. The stone car had rolled on the main track from a quarry switch. The locomotive was badly damaged and two cars were demolished.

Mason—Gordon.

Hopkinsville, Ky., July 28.—Miss Mary Watson and Mr. B. N. Gordon surprised their friends by marrying today at the bride's home here. Miss Watson is the popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Watson. The bridegroom is a lawyer of Madisonville and formerly of Elton.

Total $52,656.64. Unexpended balance July 1, 1910, $339.76. Grand total $52,996.40.

A. J. Fox, Supt. of Schools. The above is something that every parent in the county should read. It shows just exactly how Hopkins county stands in the way of money to keep its schools going. Superintendent Fox is a painstaking and efficient official, and this report will show how every cent has been expended.

ACREAGE IN TOBACCO

States That Grow the Largest Quantity
as a Rule Are Cultivating More
This Year.

The acreage in tobacco this year was expanded 3 per cent, mostly in Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Virginia, Maryland and Louisiana. A decrease is shown in the eastern portions of North and South Carolina and the upper Green River and upper Cumberland River districts of Kentucky. New England has about the same acreage as last year, but New York, Ohio, West Virginia, Georgia, and Florida have all fallen below the area of last year. The states which grow the greatest amount of tobacco have, as a rule, increased the acreage. Paducah district, Kentucky, increased its acreage 21 per cent, over 1909, Henderson district 10, per cent, Clarksville and Hopkinsville districts, 15 per cent.

REINECKE COMPANY
BUYS MORE LAND.

Takes Over Valuable Coal Tract Near Holdings.

The Reinecke Coal Company, of Madisonville, recently purchased the coal rights under the Gordon tract of land just west of the city, located on the Providence branch of the L. & N. railroad, and adjoining their already large holdings. This makes a very valuable addition to their property and is one of the best tracts of coal land in Hopkins county, lying in about the center of the rich coal belt extending through Hopkins county, and carrying a seven foot vein of No. 11 coal and a five foot vein of No. 9 coal. The price paid for this property is not given out.

ADVERTISE

These are the maxims that I take to heart,
Do thou accept them, reader,
for thy own:
Love well thy work; be truthful in the mart,
And foes will praise thee when thy friends depart.

—Eric Mackay.

Half-hearted advertising can't make a busy store—never!

A store that always advertises is supposed to always have something special and important to offer.

There are no vacant houses in Earlington and business is good, and getting better. Every week there are several calls for houses for rent.

The little news items that appear to be unimportant to you are important to us. Turn them in or call up over the phone and tell us about them.

It has been said that a busy man is happy. If this is the case, the men and women, boys and girls of Earlington certainly ought to be happy, for they are the busiest people on the face of the globe.

The Standard Oil Company is declining to be an unmixer of evil. It has even been ejected from one county on grounds that its prices were too low. The Standard's Charter was revoked in Austria on these grounds.

New subscribers are coming every day and the twice a week Bee is forging ahead in increased advertising and new subscribers. Quite a number of friends have expressed themselves as highly pleased with the amount of real news in each issue.

The Earlington Machine Works are crowded with work and orders ahead that will keep them busy for several weeks. That this concern turns out good work is evident from the numerous orders and the large amount of work they turn out.

The nowadays folks like to see a logical reason upon which to build a hope. They like to know the cause from which results may be inferred. In the matter of securing results from classified advertising this is not difficult. Suppose that it is a position as stenographer that is being sought. The advertiser may infer results from her ad for definite reasons. She knows that all employers who need stenographers will read the ads of all stenographers who seek positions—that is if her ad is "there" that it will be seen; and that if it impresses favorably, it will be answered. It would be aside from logic to imagine that if a man needs a stenographer he won't find the ad of stenographers—read the ads of stenographers—he'd be a strange type of business man, if he did. Of course, if the right ad is not there, he may publish an ad of his own. But he reads the ads—that's a safe inference. The same thing applies, in a like way, to all other classifications of want ads. Each classification draws its readers in a sort of automatic way from all those interested and concerned at the time in the matter involved. This state of affairs pretty nearly assures results from want advertising.

A complete nourish by Electric Bitters of all organs of digestion—Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Bowels. Try them. They'll restore your boyhood appetite and appreciation of food and fairly saturate your body with new health, strength and vigor. 50 cents at all druggists.

CASH OFFER MADE TO HOPKINSVILLE

Mrs. John C. Latham Seeks Compromise With City Beneficiary in Husband's Will.

Hopkinsville, Ky., July 28.—Thomas G. Gaylord, of New York, is here conferring with members of the city council concerning a compromise of the Latham will case. He is a brother of Mrs. John C. Latham, who is dissatisfied with the provisions of her husband's will, and is said to be preparing to take legal steps to have it set aside. Mr. Latham, who was reputed to be a multi-millionaire, left hand some bequests to Hopkinsville, his native city. These included the Latham homestead and the site of his large warehouse, destroyed by the night riders, which he gave to the city as parks, together with $30,000 for their improvement. He also devised a fund of $50,000 for the poor of the city. To relatives and friends, here and elsewhere, he left large sums of money, the residue of his estate and 10,000 in cash being provided for his widow, who was formerly Miss Elsie Gaylord, a Louisville belle.

The city of Hopkinsville last May formally took possession of the park properties here. Mr. Gaylord, without recognizing the will as valid or forfeiting any of his sister's rights as a contestant, proposes, with the city's consent, to recommend to Mrs. Latham that she give the city the sum of $50,750 for the purchase of other grounds as a park in consideration of the council's refusing to accept any of the bequests under the will.

The city councilmen are not disposed to look with favor on the proposition for compromise.

Six Bodies Taken From Zeigler Mine.

At the Zeigler mine, which is being overlooked and repaired, the bodies of six men, three foreigners and three negroes, were found last week among the ruins of the interior of the mines which were sealed up after the last explosion. The bodies were much better preserved than was expected by inspectors and officials as the last body that was recovered was decayed beyond all recognition the skeleton being all that was left of the man.

The work of recovering the bodies and repairing the mines has been in progress for some time and the bodies brought out were instantly recognized by acquaintances and friends. It is very remarkable that the bodies should be preserved so well as they have been there more than a year.

There are two bodies yet in the mines and the men expect to find them at any time.—Marion (Ill.) Leader.
